Countess of Wilton (left) and Mrs. George Foster Earle.

Each is a nurse and each is a moving spirit in entertainments for convalescent soldiers. The Countess of Wilton has been in active nurse service in London hospitals and has arranged many bazaars for soldiers' comfort funds.

These two British women are doing a two-fold bit for their flag. Mrs. George Foster Earle is nursing in France and sings at concerts she herself organizes for the boys.

BEAUTIFUL BRITISH PEERESS IN FRONT RANK OF WAR WORK-ERS—The call of the country's service has been heard by practically all of Great Britain's beautiful and talented peeresses. In the front rank of these industrious workers in war activities is the Countess of Wilton, who has been devoting herself to war work since the outbreak of the conflict.
