The judges for the Arnold Prize 1899 have recommended that the prize be awarded to Mr. J. L. Myres, M.A., student of Christ Church. They also recommend that a present of books be made to Mr. G. E. Grundy, M.A., Brasenose College.

A Convocation was held yesterday afternoon, presided over by the Vice-Chancellor, for the purpose of electing to the Rectory of Batheaston, in the County of Somerset, the presentation to which benefice had fallen to the University owing to the patron being a Roman Catholic. The Rev. M. D. Fletcher, M.A., Keble College, and the Rev. C. Ramsden, M.A., Wadham College, had both been duly nominated, and nearly 200 members of Convocation voted, the numbers being announced by the Vice-Chancellor as follows : For Mr. Ramsden, 123 ; for Mr. Fletcher, 63. Mr. Ramsden was accordingly pronounced duly elected to the rectory, which is of the annual value of about £200.
